Please find below the list of FAQs with respect to dematerialization of shares

1. Who is Depository Participant (DP)?

A depository is an institution holding a pool of pre-verified shares held in electronic mode that offers efficient settlement of transactions, for eg. NSDL and CDSL

A Depository Participant (DP) is an intermediary between the investor and the depository. A DP is typically a financial organization like a bank, broker, financial institution, or custodian acting as an agent of the depository to make its services available to the investors. Each DP is assigned a unique identification number known as DP-ID.

2. What are the benefits of Demat system?

The benefits of demat are as follows:

- Easy and convenient way to hold securities
- Immediate transfer of securities
- No stamp duty on transfer of securities
- Safer than paper-shares (earlier risks associated with physical certificates such as bad delivery, fake securities, delays, thefts etc. are mostly eliminated)
- Reduced paperwork for transfer of securities
- Reduced transaction cost
- No "odd lot" problem: even one share can be sold
- Change in address recorded with a Depository participant (DP) gets registered with all companies in which investor holds securities eliminating the need to correspond with each of them separately.
- Transmission of securities is done by DP, eliminating the need for notifying companies.
- Automatic credit into demat account for shares arising out of bonus/split, consolidation/merger, etc.
- A single demat account can hold investments in both equity and debt instruments.
- Traders can work from anywhere (e.g. even from home).

3. What is the process of converting physical shares into demat?

Process for conversion of physical shares into demat is as follow

- i. Open an account with a depository participant (DP)
- ii. Surrender physical certificates to DP
- iii. DP intimates to the depository regarding the request
- iv. DP submits the certificates to the registrar of the issuer company
- v. Registrar confirms the dematerialisation request from depository
- vi. After dematerialising the certificates, registrar updates accounts
- vii. Depository updates its accounts and informs the DP
- viii. DP updates the demat account of the investor
